Details:

The 13th Asia Pacific Society of Periodontology –APSP International conference was held at Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia from 27th to 30th September 2019.

The 13th Asia Pacific Society of Periodontology Conference is Asia pacific regions largest conference hosted exclusively for professionals working in the field of periodontology. It is one of the largest dental conferences in the Asia pacific region. International delegates from across the world had attended this conference.

This conference was arranged in a multidisciplinary manner to allow delegates to both explore issues pertinent to their own area of work and have the opportunity to engage with other professionals outside of their specialism. Plenary sessions were held to bring delegates together on high-impact and topical issues.

Scientific poster presentation was done by me at this conference on the topic: “Expression of Bio Markers Sclerostin and IL-6 in Crevicular Fluid around Implants and Natural Teeth”.
